

GDPR

A Business Time Bomb For Companies Unprepared

General Data Protection Regulation

Do you know what your financial risk is around your data collection?

If you are an Australian business and have European citizens as clients, then you are required to comply with this legislation. Should a breach to the new GDPR Privacy Online Laws occur, the EU can fine business 20 Million Euros or 4% of your Global Income, not just your European Income.

Moderators & Presenters:

Catherine Van Extel from ABC Radio National Big Ideas will moderate a panel including a legal authority and business representatives. The new regulation for non compliance will be discussed.

AUSTRALIAN BUSINESSES ARE AT RISK. DON'T MISS THIS IMPORTANT BRIEFING.

Attendees will be given a GDPR Handbook and Business Templates valued at $495 so they can avoid a fine and update their website or app so they comply to the new law.

This is a cutting-edge event that is significant for business operating globally.
